Traditional Bowhunters of Texas (TBoT)

The Early Years:

TBoT Began 1991 in Huntsville, Texas.

Original logo designed by Billy Moreton and Roland Jenkins and drawn by Roland in a couple hours.

First t-shirts were printed with white logo on blue, green, red, dark yellow, athletic grey and black logo on white t-shirts.

Ronnie Ellington designed many of our early t-shirts, such as this popular design.

First 3D shoot was held at the Trinity Archery Club range and then with the help of Ronnie and Rusty Ellington, the club moved to their uncle's place in Huntsville.

The first TBoT newsletter (one-page) was written and printed by Bobby Buff the following day of the first shoot. Bobby wrote and printed the TBoT newsletter the first year on a copy machine, the second year he wrote the newsletter and went to the paper in Huntsville, they printed the newsletter with half-tones. Many thanks to The Buff Family who for the first 10 years would fold, staple and lick stamps to get the TBoT Newsletter out.

The Hill Country Shootout came about by Bobby Buff and Wyatt Birkner, the original plan was to move to a different ranch every year. The first one was at Bill and Jolene Watson's South Hills Ranch, North of Sabinal and D'Hanis; there were 53 shoot participants. Then to Bugscuffle Ranch with help from Bryan and Debbie Keeling, and then to Brushy Hill Ranch and back to Bugscuffle, which still host our annual Hill Country Shootout in April.

At the Bushy Hill shoot in Sabinal, it was 105 degrees, it was decided to move the shoot to a cooler time of year, and be the first big shoot of the year. A TBoT group got together and decided to hold the HCS in April. That first year it was 28 degrees in Vanderpool on a Saturday morning and was a wonderful success. So much so, that Bryan and Debbie Keeling jumped to calling it the Bugscuffle shoot so it would stay there.

A few years later Bobby Buff came up with the idea for the Youth Traditional Championship in conjunction with the Hill Country Shootout.

1996, the first election for TBoT officers took place (see Page 4 for a copy of the Q3 1996 newsletter).

These are just a few tidbits from the early days. From the beginning to now there are many folks that have looked over and taken care of the day to day tasks of TBoT. In a later newsletter we will recognize those folks.

2013: TBoT made a contribution to the Boys and Girls Country (A Home for children) and Wounded Warrior Project. Joe Krout Essay Contest was created for TBoT Youth Program Hunts.

2014: Hill Country Shootout 452 cards sold.

2015: 20 Texas Archery Clubs hosted a TBoT 3D shoot. Hill Country Shootout 422 cards sold.

Memorial page created with Ken Denton and Connor Phillips (Age12 and Billy Moreton's nephew) as our first Memorials.

2016: There are 24 TBoT 3D shoots scheduled throughout Texas.

SHOOTOUT IS HISTORY

The 3rd Annual TexasHill Country shootout is now history. There were 40 people in attendance over the weekend that enjoyed the 3-D shoot, the hunting, and the Bar-B-Que that was served Saturday after the meeting.

The 30 target course meandered through a creek bottom and provided challenging yet realistic hunting shots. There was also a 25 pt. bonus target for those that were very confident in their shooting abilities or were gamblers at heart.

The winners were Recurve, 1st place, Wyatt Birkner, 310. 2nd place went to David Oakes with a 285. 3rd place was Steve Hawkins with a 270.

In the longbow division, Gary O'Neal 1st with a 270, Royce Laszkoskie and Charlie Roe tied at 265 and Royce won 2nd on a coin toss. 3rd then went to Charlie who is 15, but, elected to shoot in the men's class.

Tyson Schmidt won 1st in the youth class with a 215.

Beauz Mitchum won the cubs class with a 20-0 and Chalres Davidson won 2nd with a 145.

In addition to the regular 3-D shoot, there was also a 10 target smoker round. Wyatt Birkner gave a 2 day deer hunt for the high score and a 2 day hog hunt to the winner of a random drawing of all shooter's names. 15 year old Charlie Roe of Spicewood won the deer hunt with a perfect score of 200. Carl Newsome of San Angelo won the hog hunt drawing.

There was also the Jokers Wild novelty shoot. Shooters had 5 aces to shoot at a full deck of cards, including both jokers, to make their best hand. Wyatt Birkner won with 4 aces and a jack kicker. The prize was a Gametamer Quadpod which Wyatt donated back to the organization to use as a prize at a later date. Thanks, Wyatt.

A new feature at the Bugscuffle this year was the Kid's Hog Pasture. On Friday, Beauz Hunter Mitchum initiated it by taking a 62# hog. Beauz is 7 years old. On Saturday, 6 year old Zachary Buff took a 42# hog. Congratulations to these 2 proud hunters.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS . . .

On Saturday, 29 members sat down to make some important decisions about the future of TBoT. First, was the election of officers. Bubba Schmidt of San Antonio was elected our 1st president. Wyatt Birkner of Uvalde was elected Vice-President, Ron McGee of San Antonio was elected Secretary, Bobby Buff of Sabinal, Treasurer/Editor, Howard Roe of Spicewood, Legislative Representative, and Steve Hawkins of Spring was elected as Range Captain.

Representatives from each zip code were taken on a volunteer basis. They are Rick Files of Lewisville for 75, Brett McCown of Miles for 76, Danny Red of New Waverly for 77, David Driskoll of Cedar Park for 78 and Doug Johnson of Lubbock for 79.

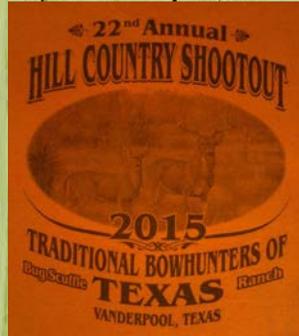

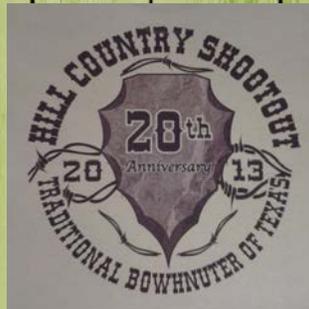

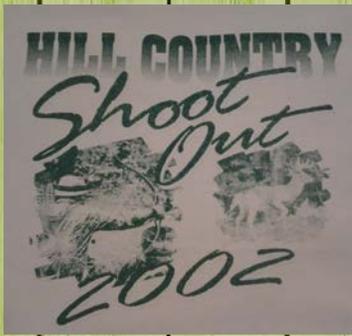

All of these people will have a vote in any executive decisions.

It was decided to offer a life membership. The price for this will be $150 and this includes all shooting members of the family including children 18 and under. This can be paid out over 12 months.

Why it is Important to Keep Traditional Archery Alive

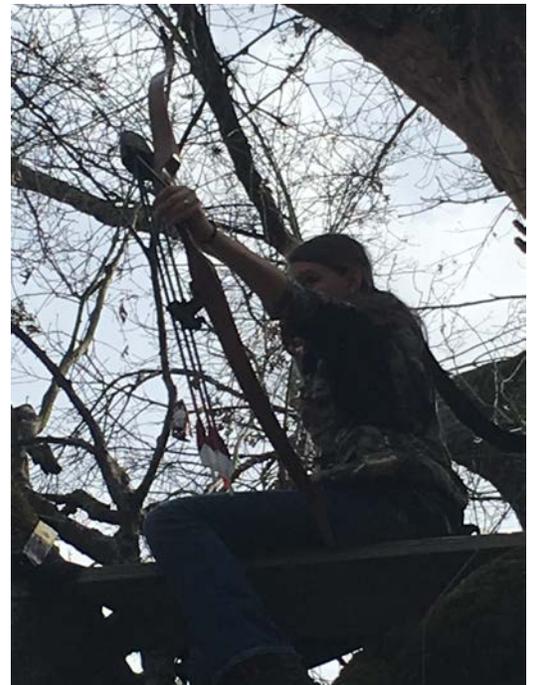

Ever since I can remember, there has always been a rather large dispute between traditional and compound archers. As a traditional archer, I can see the logic behind using the more sophisticated compound bow rather than our well-loved stick bows; whether or not I believe it is sound logic, is a different question entirely. We all know that traditional bows require a strong archer who is capable of exerting enough force on the string to hold the tension in the bow at full draw. Because of its cam system, the common compound bow will relieve the archer of a percentage of the draw weight, making it easier to hunt with. However, is this really an advantage?

I believe that a hunter who can't hold the string, or can't even draw it back to full draw length, should stick with compounds until they build up enough strength to pull a traditional bow. It's good to start young kids on compounds or even cross bows, but the ultimate goal for ultimate archers should be to use a traditional bow. Three years ago, when I started bow hunting, my Dad set me up on a compound because I couldn't pull my Mom's Black Widow recurve. However, recently I have been able to pull it back to full draw, so this hunting season it is my goal to make my first traditional kill with that same bow. I made it my goal to be able to shoot this bow because it is the ultimate challenge that my Dad has given me. I read somewhere that trad vs wheels is something like modern music listeners yearning for the grainy days of cassette tapes; however, I view it more like either listening to rap or some good jazz. Jazz is more complex, requires more skill, and is just cooler in general.

I have many friends my age who shoot nothing but compounds, although they still think it's cool that I am attempting to hunt with my recurve. My friends are just starting to hunt with compounds as opposed to rifles and they are doing great for beginners, but the ultimate goal is a traditional kill. This is even true for adult bow hunters. This is why we need to encourage and keep traditional archery alive. It is vitally important that we challenge the next generation of bow hunters to be strong, determined, future traditional shooters. We don't want the next generation to only be concerned with filling their tag, or getting the biggest buck, by using their compounds or even rifles. We need the next generation to strive for the ultimate goal.

The Reason Traditional Archery Should Be Kept Alive

I believe that traditional archery should be around for many more years and that it will show how the Indians and other before us hunted. Also the modern bows (compounds) are not as fun or hard to understand and shoot. Also if I have never shot a traditional bow I would recommend it to see how much fun and interesting this sport is yes it has its ups and downs but that makes even that more fun.

As a traditional hunter myself I believe that compounds are harder to comprehend and that it is not about speed or how much poundage you have on the bow it is about keeping one of the world's oldest activities going. How many times have you seen traditional archery sold on TV or in the newspaper? Not very much that is what I thought so. Also how many historical museums have you been to that have broadheads probably none but how many have had arrowheads? To go with more info on this is how many westerns or medieval shows have compounds none. So with that in mind how much traditional equipment is used back then and now there are a couple thousand people who are still keeping traditional archery alive so the sport has not been totally forgotten about. The importance of keeping traditional archery going is to show the kids of the future of how many people and historical. So to keep traditions going you have to start your kids off with the same stuff you have shot and show them how fun keeping traditions alive. Also if we the traditional shooters start even more of the competitions in school we would be able to get the traditional aspect going from generations to generations and that is the most important thing to keep traditional archery alive. So the importance of traditional archery will show more people the fun of shooting the way the Indians before us have hunted and gone to war with and without traditional archery we would not be able to come up with the new high tech equipment such as compounds how would they have been able to get the idea of making them if traditional archery was not involved with the world today so that is why I believe that traditional archery should be kept alive.

Gus, age 16, Spring Break 2015, Oklahoma Selfbow Club Ojam, made this selfbow in two days using draw knife scraper and files to build his own bow.

TBOT Featured Sponsor

Bob Sarrels • Sarrels Archery

Bob Sarrels, a TBOT Life member, participant 1997 and 1998, became a vendor 1999 and has been involved with TBOT since as a sponsor and donor. Thank You Bob! Bob is working very hard to have plenty of bows ready for the upcoming Hill Country Shootout.

We have been an archery family for almost three decades. After a few years of compound bows, we found that traditional archery was much more challenging, and therefore more exciting. In 1997 Bob Sarrels, a furniture maker and upholsterer, tried his hand at creating his own longbow. He named it the Sierra, and even in its earliest form he knew it was a great bow - smooth, fast, and quiet. Many other longbow, and later recurve, models would follow. Sarrels bows steadily gained a reputation for both their beauty and performance. Zachary joined Sarrels Archery in 2010 bringing his own style and ideas to the business. Today, after more than fifteen hundred bows, our attention to quality, craftsmanship, and detail is as strong as ever.

Making traditional archery available to the largest possible audience is a primary goal. We have a vast selection of models and options that you can choose from to find the best bow for you, whether you're five years old or eighty-five years old, serious hunter or target shooter just looking to have fun. We also consider each bow a functional work of art. We strive to make them original, unique, of only the finest available materials, and with wood combination of complimenting colors and textures. Every Sarrels bow is hand-crafted from start to finish- from shaping the riser to painting on the serial number with a calligraphy pen. We don't use CNC machines or screen printers. We are proud to be master artisans and believe that the extra time it takes in the process shows up in the end product. We are also happy to take the extra time to help you decide which bow is the bow for you. There's nothing like the feeling of shooting a perfectly crafted bow built by only two pairs of hands.

After all... Life's too short to shoot an ugly bow.

Biographical Summary of Bowhunter Bob Morrison

I was born, Eston Odell Morrison in Sabinal, Uvalde Co., TX, on September 18, 1932, to Eston W. and Maxine Morrison. Dad was from Cherrryville, N.C.; mother was born in Utopia, TX, the child of cedar choppers. Dad was a bridge gang carpenter employed by the Southern Pacific Railroad, for 48 years.

The marriage lasted three years. From three years old until I was fifteen, I lived with mother's relatives: great Uncle Fred L. and Aunt Jessie Bell Durbon. They were illiterate ranch hands; neither educated. Uncle Fred finished the second grade; Aunt Jessie's education is questionable. But, they had very strong religious scruples and family ties. I loved them dearly.

I spent most of my young live on the Finlay Ranch, twenty-five miles south of Uvalde on Hwy. 481, then a muddy road but now paved from Uvalde to Eagle Pass. When school started in September, I was farmed out to anyone that would take dad's $25/mo. to board me. I lived with nine different families from the first grade until dad married when I was in the fourth grade. He married a cruel woman but stayed with her thirty-nine years, when he died of a brain tumor. I went to court in Uvalde at fifteen to get a court order to live with my mother and step-father Jerry Theige in Uvalde. I graduated from Uvalde High School in, May, 1950.

The happiest days of my young life were on the Finlay Ranch. There, I drown out ground squirrels and kept them as pets; I hunted rabbits for home-use and feed for the two teams of cow dogs that were used to roust the ornery cattle from the South Texas brush country. During the heat of the summer days, Aunt Jessie and I would nap, read magazines. Hers were True Romance and detective magazines. I read Sports Afield, Field & Stream, and Outdoor Life. And dreamed of hunting and fishing after reading each issue.

The Korea Conflict was gaining momentum after I graduated, but I managed to get one year in at Southwest Texas Junior College in Uvalde before, I received a letter from the army stating, "We want you!" I wrote back, "Too late, the U.S. Navy has me!"

I spent four years active duty in the U.S. Navy and four in inactive duty. I reported aboard the U.S.S. LSM 268, a landing ship medium, at Long Beach, CA, in October, 1951; after giving the ship to the Republic of Korea navy, in 1955, I reported for duty on the U.S. LST 1110 (landing ship troops) in San Diego. I was discharged in San Diego, CA, on June 2, 1955.

Special Thank You to Bob Morrison for the many years of contributing your wonderful bow hunting articles to our TBoT newsletter.

If it hadn't been for a Sabinal and navy friend, I would have spent my productive years on the Southern Pacific Railroad signal gang. The friend said at the end of the summer 1955, that he was going to Texas A&I on the G.I. Bill. I asked what the heck was this? When he told me that the Bill paid for a college education. I threw down my shovel and decided to go to college.

Afterward, I graduated from Texas A&I, married, finished A&M with a Master's and a PhD, specializing in entomology and parasitology. I had taught entomology labs at A&M one year, while working on the Masters. After finishing the Masters, I taught an academic year Texas A&I in Kings-yule. Upon finishing the PhD, I taught three years at Lamar University in Beaumont, TX. From there, I finished my teaching career at Tarleton State University, having been there 29 years ... making a total of thirty-four years in higher academics. On June 1, 1995, I had had enough of higher administrative B.S. (biodegradable substance) and retired early.

Alice, Geoffrey, Gregory, Gary, and I have enjoyed the good life in Stephenville, Texas, since we arrived there on May 30, 1966. I'm as far north, far south, far east, and far west as I ever want to be in Texas. And, over these years, I've kept active in playing "with the crooked limb and pointed sticks."

In June, 1959, Knox Walker, A&M entomologist, taught a basic archery class at the A&M archery range. In five days, he taught the five of us the basics. The first bow that I could afford while at A&M was a 45-lb. pull, Bear bow. With it, I put a lot of frogs legs and small game on the Morrison table. The bow hangs in my den.

Way back when Fred Bear advocated of being a two-season hunter (bow and gun), I followed his suggestion. This really didn't sit with me too well, and in the Fall, 1983, I started hunting only with the bow and arrow. To day, I have downed 105 deer (a Colorado and a Texas mule deer plus 103 Texas white-tail). The 2015-2016 deer season will probably be my last deer season. I will spend my remaining days bowfishing. I'd rather bowfish than do any other type of bowbending.

Bowhunter's Prayer

by Bill Wray

Dear Lord

In the beginning ~

May my intent to hunt be honorable and great anticipation accompany sincere preparation;

Then help me be aware of your presence in my appreciation of the magnificent wilderness:

Let ~

The wind be in my face;

The sun shine upon my back and the earth quiet beneath my tread;

Only after ~

I see and admire the wile of the quarry:

May my aim be good, bow silent and arrow true;

As the years pass, memories recalled, tales told ~

Grant that my friends be near and our campfires many;

Let me be humble and those who listen impressed by the wonder of it all;

Finally, if it be Thy will ~

When the coals of my last fire dim;

Bless me with a smooth release of my soul into the hollow of your hand; and Let the legacy of the hunt live on.

Amen

Wayne Wendel and Bill Wray with their javelina taken by longbows.

TBOT's Officer Ballot

Please take time to vote. Thank You.

President, Bud Murphy _____

Vice President, Larry Wentreck _____

Larry Wentreck, born in Bryan TX , June 8,1958. Professional years included 24 years with the College Station Fire Department, 15 years as an officer and director of RVOS Ins. Co. and a licensed real estate agent in the state of Texas for over 30 years. Currently retired firefighter assisting a friend in his real estate business and shooting my bows. Hobbies and interest include but not limited to traditional archery, kayaking, other outdoor activities and beer. I started shooting a recurve around 1990 and evolved to a long bow several years later, currently shooting both, including composite, self bow and a primitive sinew backed bow my son made. My interest in serving as an officer for TBOT center around my desire to help preserve traditional archery and recruit new shooters to our style of archery. TBOT has proven to be an organization that does just that.
